ECTS credits: 5

Lecturer: PhDr. Oľga Škvareninová, PhD. olga.skvareninova@ucm.sk

Course description: On successful completion of the course, students should acquire knowledge of journalism and reporting as of a social and media phenomenon, and knowledge of message production in print, audiovisual and electronic media. They should be familiar with the news typology, with the basic composition proceedings in message creation; with news values analyses, gatekeeping and agenda setting. They should be able to analyse various types of messages, their objectivity, and be able to evaluate the level of subjectivity in media presentation and stylistics of news. They should know the ethics of citing and introducing sources in news production. They should possess such a level of knowledge of creating media messages that will enable them to work as professionals in mass media, PR, marketing, or to use them to develop their own skills and abilities as media workers. To provide public with a professional service is not the only requirement a news worker nowadays is obliged to fulfil. And thus, acquiring and deepening the knowledge of the codified Slovak language is an inevitable part of the educational process.

Assessment:

Condition on passing the course and assessment of student's results are included in „ Study regulations of the University of SS. Cyril and Methodius in Trnava. “

They are as follows:

- Written examination in the form of a written final seminar paper worked out according to the instructions of the lecturer and submitted at the deadlines set by the lecturer ;
- 4 written seminar paper worked out according to the instructions of the lecturer and submitted at the deadlines set by the lecturer

To complete the course students is obliged to submit the seminar papers and the final seminar paper. The papers are assessed within the grading scale from A to E.

Submitted papers account for 50% of the total assessment, another 50% may be gained by active participation in the course. Students are required to submit the seminar paper also in case of their absence at the particular seminar or lecture.

Final grading scale (in percentages): 100-93 = A; 92-85 = B; 84-76 = C; 75-68 = D; 67-60 = E; 59 and less = Fx.

The regular attendance at the course is another prerequisite to complete the course, maximum 2 absences can be excused (i.e. max. 4 lessons). With the individual study programme students it is inevitable to attend at least 50% of the lectures (see Study regulations UCM, § 13). Individual study programme students are obliged to submit - besides the above-mentioned conditions on completion of the course- also an extra seminar paper on a given topic at the end of the term. More than 50% of absences cannot be excused and the course cannot be completed.
