LEONARDO / ERASMUS PROGRAM

Student Experience internship in Palma de Mallorca
For Photography and Editing Assistant

The ABA ART LAB Internship program is a unique opportunity for European undergraduate and postgraduate students to live and work in Palma de Mallorca, and experience life on the world's most authentic Mediterranean Island. Applicants must demonstrate their interest, skills and expertise to undertake this internship and be available for at least 6 to 9 months.

ABA ART LAB internships aim to strengthen relations between Mallorca and the world, engaging young students as future art curators and citizens. The ABA ART LAB Internship Program presents a personal and professional development opportunity for students, a chance not only to develop your design and language skills but also to become acquainted with the exciting movement of the art world.

Host Profile

ABA ART LAB was founded in September 2004 by the Bordoy twin sisters. It started as a local (Palma de Mallorca) emergent contemporary art gallery and it evolved into a global site-specific art production company. All this was achieved without giving up its own exhibition spaces, now called ABA ART LAB project rooms.

Internship Profile

The photography intern will work alongside the graphic designer, and will be responsible for shooting and editing gallery artwork, producing art catalogues and developing the current content/ layout of the corporate website. Sustaining ABA ART LAB's online presence, s/he will be involved with the technical and graphical aspects of maintaining the brand identities consistently (especially across the web site, social media and art catalogue edition). The intern will also be creating and developing new photography concepts for the gallery, and work on one key photography project throughout the course of the internship.
